

Relieve Your Indigestion With A Laxative

Dyspeptics know that indigestion is accompanied by constipation; and that until the bowels can be regulated so they will act freely and naturally every day at a stated time; swallowing dyspepsia tablets is of little use.

A great and growing number of sufferers from this trouble find immediate and then permanent relief by the use of a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by druggists under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The laxative herbs act on the bowels and the pepsin and extracts on the digestive tract, forming an exceptionally effective laxative-tonic.

It is a combination that has been found wonderfully helpful in indigestion; constipation; biliousness; headaches; bad breath; belching and gas on the stomach. A small dose is all that is required.

The druggist will refund your money if it fails to do as promised.

NO INCREASE
In spite of enormous increased laboratory costs due to the war, the manufacturers of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are maintaining their price at the same level as before the war. As that this family laxative may remain at the same price of 50c and $1 a large bottle. So sold by druggists for 20 years.

Instantly! Corns Stop Hurting! Corns Loosen and Lift Out

No pain! Few drops loosen corns and calluses so they fall off—Try it! Magic!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man. Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the finger.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin. Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is a scientific compound made from ether. MOVING DRAFT MEN PROBLEM

Internal Transportation Most Important Task Before
War Department.

400,000 CALLED IN MAY

American Troops Mobilized and Sent to Europe at Rate Unprecedented.

(By David Lawrence.)
(Copyright, 1918, by New York Evening Post Co.)

Washington, May 17.—So rapidly are American troops being moved to Europe that the mobilization of drafted men is proceeding with unprecedented speed, and the biggest and most important problem before the war department is internal transportation.

To move 50,000 troops requires at least ten days' notice, as schedules must be rearranged, as traffic adjusted to absorb the troop trains. There hasn't been the best kind of provision in the matter, and congestion is resulting.

But the authorities have probably learned a lesson about overnight mobilizations of draft army contingents that will stand them in good stead in the future.

When it is considered that in the month of May alone more than 400,000 men will have been called to the colors and that in previous months the most that was ever summoned was in the neighborhood of 30,000, some idea of the speed with which the war machine is being compelled to move these days can be obtained.

Camps and cantonments are being enlarged, and space is being made for the new troops by the shipment of the trained divisions to Europe. The government had no idea that it could transport troops as rapidly as the present emergency has made possible and the war department's call for drafted men has tended to upset railroad plans somewhat.

Nevertheless cars are being provided, only there must necessarily be some delay in the handling of coal and raw materials, for troops will have preference everywhere.

Another inevitable difficulty is the agricultural situation. The government had practically promised that the biggest drain of drafted men would come later in the year, but instead, the young men are being called in the midst of the planting season.

This is causing a good deal of disappointment and naturally will interfere somewhat with food production, but the decision to place men along the United States in rushing men to the western front to create a big reserve army that shall protect the entire against emergencies in the year 1918.

Large numbers of troops are always required for Mexican border patrol, as it is desired to prevent ammunition smuggling and border raids, which, if ignored and not prevented, could lead to more serious complications.

America has 100,000 registrants in Porto Rico, and probably could get 20,000 men out of that number who would be suited to current conditions on the boundary. Those men have been available for the last seven months and are eager for service.

This is another thing that the war department is just beginning to take up. Army officers believe the Porto Ricans will make excellent troops and are anxious that tonnage be provided to bring them to camps in the southern states.

The last month has seen, indeed, a complete change in the handling of troops, and it is gratifying to report that all along the line the cry of hurry up has had its effect. The machinery is not yet what it can be or should be, but the German offensive on the western front opened the eyes of slow-moving officials to the possibility that American help was demanded, not for next year alone, but for this year.

More than 500,000 men are now in Europe, and before the end of the summer there should be a million. Lord Reading and French officials, privately as well as publicly, express their satisfaction with the way troops are being rushed abroad, and while there is a warning against false optimism, nevertheless it is true that official Washington feels very much more confident and secure about the whole situation than it did a fortnight ago.

TWO COUNTIES HAVE GROWN RICH ON PEACHES

Prospects for Big Yield—All
Plans Laid for Shipment of 1918 Crop.

(Special to The News.)

Summerville, Ga., May 17.—Chattanooga county is patiently awaiting the early date when the Georgia peach will make its debut. The peach has made Summerville and Chattanooga county famous—not only famous, but rich, and its achievements along these lines promises to excel all former records this year. Growers have wisely arranged their crops to ripen in rotation, because when a peach is ripe it must be plucked immediately and placed on the market.

The Carman comes first, then Georgia Belle, and after that the beautiful Elberta comes the climax. Already the Carman tempts the appetite by saucily exhibiting its ruddy, sun-kissed cheeks to view, and in a few days thousands of the delectable hands of Georgia lassies will be culling them out and dropping their names and addresses in the crates. But this fascinating pastime has lost a lot of its power, since the hoped-for recipients have been called to the colors, and the lassies think none others are worth while.

Never since the peach-growing industry was inaugurated in Chattanooga county were prospects better for a bumper crop, a larger and more auspicious peach, or a better demand.

The crop here and at Lyerly will simply be enormous. The peaches are much larger than usual. One grower here estimates that he will have over sixty cars. Everyone here is getting in readiness to take care of the immense output of Chattanooga county's orchards.

Tomorrow

The Last Day!

Tomorrow UNIVERSAL WEEK comes to an end. It's been a wonderful sale and demonstration week. If you haven't called on us—now is the time to do it. In fact you owe it to yourself and family to see the UNIVERSAL Combination Range and arrange for a

Grand Home Demonstration

The Universal Combination Range has won fame for operating at lowest fuel expense and for baking the finest of biscuits, pies and cakes. And the roasts are so juicy and tender. It does its work where others fail.

That's because this range burns gas and coal or wood—or both, at the same time—whichever is best suited to the food you are preparing.

To change from one fuel to another in the

UNIVERSAL COMBINATION RANGE

(U. S. Pat. Issued Dec. 25, 1917)

all you do is to turn the key at the right of oven door. Turn it one way for gas—turn it back for coal. There are no parts to change—no danger of making mistakes like in ordinary combination ranges. All you have to do is to turn the key—that's all.

You suit the fuel to conditions. This helps the Government conserve coal. Saves money on fuel bills. Keeps the kitchen warm in winter; cool in summer—keeps your maid contented—or enables you to save labor, time and expense if you cannot get good help.

Now, the largest selling combination range in America. "Starred" by Good Housekeeping Institute, and highly recommended by Marion Harris Neil, former Cooking Editor of the Ladies' Home Journal and National Culinary Expert.

Come In Tomorrow—Sure!
And get all the facts. Made of cast-iron—will last a lifetime. Comes in plain or nickel finish and blue or black UNIVIT porcelain enamel. Which do you prefer?
